ATOM-SUB 'SKATE' BREAKS ALL RECORDS

$150,000 Center Will Be Constructed Here

Work will begin immediately on a $150,000 shopping center at the corner of College Farm Road and North 18th Street, according to John O. Pasco, owner of the Pasco Sub-division.

Ground has been broken for the construction of the shopping center, Pasco said.

Building permit 661 was issued by the City of Murray on January 29 which lists the cost of the center to be $150,000.

It will extend 220 feet along

College Farm Road and 75 feet along 18th Street. The building will be set back 50 feet from College Farm Road and 60 feet from 18th Street.

One of the principal attractions of the shopping center will be a sidewalk cafe which will be under fourteen shade trees at the intersection of the two streets.

Another feature of the center will be a teen town section which will include a music center, a drug store and a 10¢ or variety store.

The main portion of the shopping center will be occupied by a nationally known company which will be announced at a later date. Pasco said. Space will be provided for a beauty parlor, rotisserie, coffee shop and bakery.

The grounds surrounding the shopping center will be landscaped with flowers and shrubbery. A hedge will also be planted along the rear of the lot to beautify the area in the rear of the building.

Future plans include the construction of an underground Civil Defense shelter in cooperation with the United States Civil Defense Administration, Pasco continued.

Pasco told the Ledger and Times this morning that ample parking space will also be provided for patrons of the shopping center.

Pasco, who owns a large area to the south and east of the intersection of 18th and College Farm Road, has developed several streets in the subdivision where many nice homes have been constructed.

Huge Circus Lion Terrorizes 3,000 Until Finally Caged

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — A huge circus lion broke out of an arena Thursday night at Madison Square Garden and terrorized an audience of 3,000 until he was trapped in a dead-end corridor 15 minutes later.

Ponto, 800-pound star of Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey's big cat act, smashed through an insecurely hinged section of the ring-size cage after getting into a fight with two of the set's Bengal tigers during the well-stress rehearsal performance.

The powerful, heavily-manned beast bounded around the end arena, then paused at the screaming audience of invited guests, including reporters, and their children, jumped to its feet and started for the nearest exit. Ponto did the same, leaping gracefully over the arena rail and disappearing through an exit into the main lobby.

Watched For Re-appearance

Realizing that the lion now had the run of the lobby, most of the spectators decided to stay in the seating area where they could watch for his possible re-appearance. Many persons suddenly realized that the interior of the garden resembled the Roman Colosseum.

"Now I know how those Christians felt waiting for the first lion," one woman remarked.

In the lobby, Ponto scattered the ticket-tickers and refreshment stand employees and eyed the various stairways and escalators leading to the upper balconies. But he chose to plunge headlong down a short corridor leading to a stairway to the basement, where the smell of other circus animals probably attracted him.

A locked grill across the end of the corridor frustrated Ponto and he turned momentarily to claw at a telephone booth only a few feet away from one in which UPI correspondent Murray Brown was phoning the news to his office. Then Ponto attacked the grill again, this time getting his paw caught in an interstice.

"Ponto is Gentle"

"Here comes the trainer, hurrying in followed by several circus hands rolling his cage," Brown reported. "But I'm not sticking my head out to see how the trainer is going to get him loose."

The German trainer, Hans

Naumann, a veteran of five Garden seasons, ordered a net thrown across the entrance to the corridor. He placed Ponto's cage near the roaring beast, talked to him soothingly, and prodded the paw loose from the grill. Suddenly the giant cat was back in the cage and roustabouts were rolling off to the basement.

"He's the biggest lion in America but he never caused me any trouble before," said Naumann of the 8-year-old beast. "Ponto is gentle—he was probably more afraid than anybody else. He certainly is not dangerous to me, but to you, yes, maybe."

Missionary To Lead Morning Meditation At District Meet

A retired missionary who spoke at annual district meetings of the Woman's Society three years ago will return to the Memphis Conference to lead the morning meditations at the annual meeting in Fulton next week.

She is Miss Nina Stallings, who served for more than 40 years as a missionary in the Orient, most of the time in China.

The morning meditation services will be held on Wednesday and Thursday mornings in the Fulton Christian Church, near the host church. They will open at 9:15 a. m. and close at 9:45 a. m. In addition to these services, Miss Stallings will lead members of the conference executive committee in a service of spiritual preparation on the opening morning of the three day session.

A native of Missouri, Miss Stallings now lives in Atlanta, Ga. She was graduated from Central College and studied for two years at Scarritt College before she was commissioned as a missionary and sent to China in 1914. Later, during time allowed her for furloughs, she did graduate work in American schools, and holds a master of science degree in education from Columbia University. Miss Stallings worked in China from 1914 to 1949, when she became the first missionary to be deported by the Communists. She taught in schools and universities and did rural work in villages in that country. From 1950 to 1954, she served in the Philippines, again in the fields of education and rural work.

German Woman Is Bleeding From Mystic 'Crucifixion' Wounds

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (UPI) — Therese Neumann today began her lonely, painful re-enactment of Christ's agony as she has every year since 1926.

The 60-year-old villager of the Upper Palatinate first suffered the mystic wounds of the Crucifixion on Good Friday 33 years ago.

Every year, on Good Friday, the stigmatic has bled from various of the wounds Christ suffered.

This year, she is bleeding from the heart wound and from her eyes.

Her family has reported that since the first appearance of the wounds, she has eaten nothing in the 33 years that have passed since then, they report, the only solids she consumed were the hosts she has received at Communion.

An estimated 8,000 persons, among them many American soldiers stationed in Germany, have been here since the early hours of this morning.

The Roman Catholic Church has not yet made any pronouncement about her mystic experiences, although it was understood here that "favorable consideration" was being shown at the Vatican.

DOVE OF PEACE

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Iowa House Speaker Rep. Vern Lisle says that to keep peace in his own house he will vote against a bill to permit dove shooting.

He said he decided to do so after his wife wrote him a two-page letter for the birds.

The Ones That Got Away

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Burglars broke into a fur company and grabbed about $5,000 worth of coats, capes and stoles. But owner Frederick Joseph pointed out that the thieves took muskrat, ignoring far more valuable mink.

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — David Blanchard, Republican floor leader in the Wisconsin Assembly, has charged that the Democrats have recruited the Capitol page boys as spies.

"When you see a page around, don't talk," he advised GOP colleagues.

Four Way Vaccine Ready By August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supplies of a new four-way vaccine which will protect pre-school children from polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are expected to be available by August, Public Health Service officials predicted today.

The four-in-one inoculation announced Thursday by Surgeon General Leroy P. Burney will provide "safe and effective" protection against the diseases. He said this was proved by tests on thousands of individuals.

"Two laboratories, Parke, Davis & Co. and March, Sharpe and Thorne — have been licensed to produce the vaccine."

Burney stressed the new four-way vaccine, which includes Salk vaccine, was designed only for children five years old or less.

He said it was "inadvisable" for older children and adults because of the well-known sensitive reaction to diphtheria toxoid in full dosage in this age group.

Burney said the four-way vaccine will not be available in large quantities for some time.

Burney urged parents not to wait until the new four-in-one vaccine becomes available to inoculate their children against polio. He stressed the Salk vaccine already has proven it is 90 per cent effective when three shots are given. He said parents should lose no time in obtaining such protection for their children.

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — David Blanchard, Republican floor leader in the Wisconsin Assembly, has charged that the Democrats have recruited the Capitol page boys as spies.

"When you see a page around, don't talk," he advised GOP colleagues.

Lynn Grove Methodists In New Building

The New Lynn Grove Methodist Church building will be ready for occupancy on Easter Sunday according to Rev. Hoyt Owen, pastor of the church.

Since the building burned on October 11, 1958, the church has been holding services in the Lynn Grove High School.

Rev. Owen and the entire Lynn Grove congregation, extend an invitation to the public to share with them in the services on Easter Day.

Sunday School will be held at 10:30 a. m. and the Easter worship service will be at 11:30 a. m. The Goshen Methodist Church will hold their Easter worship service at 9:45 a. m. The Sunday School hour will follow the worship service. The public is also invited to attend these services.

Paratrooper Has Harrowing Experience

FT. CAMPBELL, (UPI) — Pfc. Donald Hiatt, Ft. Campbell paratrooper from Corpus Christi, Tex., was ready to jump again today, following a harrowing incident that could have cost his life.

The 19-year-old soldier hung beneath a C119 troop carrier by his feet at 1,200 feet for nearly a minute Tuesday when he became entangled in his static line, which normally opens the parachute.

Hiatt said he thought at first the jolt he felt after leaving the plane was the normal jerk of his chute opening.

A 130 mph propeller blast battered his body against the tail of the plane, but he remained conscious. He placed his hands on top of his helmet to signal that fact to his buddies. Staff Sgt. Ben Douglas cut him loose and he used his reserve chute to descend.

Hiatt's own knife, which paratroopers carry in the tops of their boots, was dislodged by the air blast.

By this time, the troop carrier had passed the drop zone and was over the rifle range where troops in training were firing. Someone noticed the trooper's predicament, however, and ordered a "cease fire."

Hiatt landed on the range and was quickly picked up by an ambulance helicopter. He was taken to the hospital where he was treated and released. Except for several bruises, he is none the worse off.

Second Trip Under North Pole Is Revealed By U.S. A-Sub

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy announced today that the atomic submarine Skate has made its second trip beneath the North Pole and broken all previous records for time and distance in Polar operations under the ice.

The Skate's crew scattered the ashes of the late Polar explorer Sir Hubert Wilkins into the blowing snow during the 12-day submarine spent in the ice area. The Skate completed its second voyage under the Arctic ice to the North Pole at 10:45 p. m. EST Thursday, the Navy said.

"In the half-light of the North Pole at about 6:00 a. m. EST, March 17, crew members carried out a last wish of the late Polar explorer Sir Hubert Wilkins by scattering his ashes into the blowing snow. Sir Hubert died Dec. 1, 1958, at Farmington, Mass."

During its first polar cruise last year, the Skate was in the permanent ice area 10 days and 14 hours during which it surfaced nine times in ice "leads."

Skipped by Cmdr. James F. Calvert, the submarine logged 3,090 miles in 12 days in the permanent ice area.

It surfaced 10 times, "once exactly at the North Pole." The Skate carried a crew of 106.

An octagonal road sign means stop. Triangular signs mean "slow down" or "stop and yield the right-of-way." A diamond-shaped sign warns of dangerous or unusual road conditions ahead. Rectangular signs govern speed limits.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

AS THE DUST SETTLES

STEWART ALSOP, leading political writer, discusses the problems faced by the democrats in selecting a presidential candidate in 1960, in the March 28 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, and gives some revised versions of last November's democratic landslide which indicate it wasn't such a sweeping victory after all.

The reason it was not all liberal democrats hoped it would be is that it eliminated the two leading contenders for the presidential nomination, Harriman of New York and "Soapy" Williams of Michigan.

Harriman was eliminated because he was defeated by a Republican, Nelson Rockefeller, in his bid for re-election as Governor, and Williams won his sixth term by what Alsop says was the "skin of his teeth." The subsequent financial difficulties encountered by his administration has discredited him and made Walter Reuther a mill-stone around his neck rather than a political asset.

Alsop eliminates three of the seven remaining leading contenders by a single stroke of the pen because they are Roman Catholics, two Governors and a United States Senator, Governor Pat Brown of California, Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Senator Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts. He says all three are among the best politicians in the business, also that their religion is not a handicap to them as Governors or Senators, but that it is an "unsurmountable barrier" to the presidency.

Meyner was listed as one of the three Roman Catholics, although he renounced his religion while he was a college student and has never joined any other church.
He was brought up as a Catholic and Alsop thinks it would still be a handicap to him since he belongs to no other church.

Senator Lyndon Johnson's chances are slim, Alsop says, because he lives in Texas and the Democrats have never nominated a Southerner since the Civil War. Humphrey was eliminated because he lives in Minnesota, and Stevenson because he is a two-time loser. That leaves only Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri who Alsop predicts will be the nominee in July, 1960.

He says Symington "smells like a presidential candidate" because nobody hates him. He has voted as a liberal democrat, but his heart has been to the right of some of his votes, so much so that he is the choice of Senator Johnson if he gives up the hope of being a nominee himself.

With the convention more than a year off predictions are a dime a dozen, but the party probably could do no better than to put another Missourian at the head of the ticket. Especially one nobody hates and one who has, unlike Harry S. Truman, made a success in his own business, as well as in public life.

What was most interesting about Alsop's article was his reappraisal of last November's landslide. He says it was not a "mandate" for the country to spend its way out of the recession of last year, and to end unemployment by liberalizing benefits, but quite the opposite.

He says we were so happy over the results we didn't take time to examine the sort of democrats we elected.
They were not the Harriman-Humphrey-Williams-Roosevelt type at all, but the kind who have listened to Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson.

Hence the failure of Javets and Douglas, and the apparent change of heart, even in the White House, over the use of troops to enforce court orders and the present attitude of Congress to go slow on civil rights legislation.

TIP-OFF ON TIPS
MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Some tips on the lumpy problem of tipping have been suggested by the Minnesota State Automobile Association.

The main factors in determining the amount of the tip are:
How good was the service? What is the quality of the establishment? How much can you afford?
The association says the average tip has gone up to 15 to 20 per cent of the check because of inflation. It is important to be fair in tipping at all times, at all places, the auto club added, but over-tipping is in bad taste anywhere.

Spring Baseball Reports Read More Like Medical Bulletins

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International
Those daily reports from baseball's spring training camps are continuing to read like medical bulletins.

Five more players — including Billy O'Dell of the Baltimore Orioles and young Eddie Haas of the Milwaukee Braves — were added to today's casualty list.

O'Dell, the winning pitcher in last year's All-Star game, injured his back while warming up before Thursday night's Baltimore-Kansas City game at Miami.

Taking no chances, the Orioles announced O'Dell, who had a 14-11 record last year, will be flown to Baltimore today for a thorough examination.

Haas suffered a broken ankle in an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cardinals at Bradenton and will be sidelined for at least eight weeks.

Injuries Hamper Braves.
The Braves have been hampered by a mounting injury list all spring. Second baseman Mel Roach is still hobbled by a 1958 leg injury; third baseman Eddie Matthews recently was sidelined with a groin injury, and first baseman Joe Adcock has been nursing a swollen knee.

Other clubs also are having their troubles. The Philadelphia Phillies announced that veteran southpaw Curt Simmons has bone chips in his left elbow "but may require surgery, reserve catcher
John Blanchard of the New York Yankees sustained a "bruise" right leg, and rookie Joe Seitz of the Chicago Cubs was struck on the right elbow by a line drive while pitching batting practice.

The Phillies found something to cheer about when Robin Roberts turned in a route-going, 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators. The veteran right-hander yielded seven hits, including four runners by Jim Lemon and Norm Zachary.

Brooks Lawrence also went nine innings in hurling the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Lawrence spaced seven hits, Bob Lillis collected three singles for the Dodgers.

Shortstop Andre Rodgers, hit in the face by a pitched ball Wednesday, displayed that "old Oriole spirit" with a pair of homers that carried the San Francisco Giants to a 7-5 victory over the leveland Indians.

Manly Gets Homer
The game was enlivened by a bouncing "rhubarb" in the eighth inning when Giant pitcher Stu
Miller hit Vic Power in the head with one of his "blazing" slow balls. Jim Bolger, running for Power, crashed into Rodgers while breaking up a double play and both benches emptied. No punches were thrown.

A 425-foot home run by Mickey

Mantle sparked the Yankees to a 7-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bob Turley worked the first seven innings for the Yanks, allowing only four hits. Dick Stuart homered for the Pirates in the opening inning.

Elsewhere, the Detroit Tigers turned back the Chicago White Sox, 6-2, with the help of a three-run homer by Rocky Bridges.
Rookie Dick Ricketts helped pitch
the Cardinals to a 6-3 victory over the Braves. Bill Renna's fourth hit of the game enabled the Boston Red Sox to edge the Chicago
Cubs, 4-3, in 11 innings, and Al Philarek's run-scoring single in the 10th inning carried the Orioles to a 4-3 triumph over the Athletics.

COVER "GIRLIE" MAGAZINES
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. UPI
Several local news stand operators have had racks built that hide all but the titles on "girlie" magazines.
The operators said the action was necessary because of many complaints received about the "disgraceful" pictures on the magazine covers.

Handsome Costume Blouses

THIS CHARMING and colorful overblouse is in a floral pattern faintly etched in jet black. DESIGNED TO FIT neatly, a tuck-in blouse is done in a light, lacy and lovely fern print.

By SUSAN BARDEN

THIS season blouses play a starring role in the world of Spring fashion.
Bright and Gay
They're designed along youthful lines and, in keeping with the trend, are bright and gay.
Showing the influence of Paris, a floral print with a softly pleated mushroom collar is gently bloused over a snug bodice that reaches to the top of the hips. Tiny cuffed sleeves make it easy to wear under jackets with shorter sleeves.

Another popular style is a dressmaker blouse, cut on easy lines, to tuck neatly inside a smartly slim skirt.
One such design achieves a double-breasted effect via two rows of pearl buttons. A deep shawl collar outlines its away-from-the-neck décolletage in a flattering way.

Popular Polka Dots
Polka dots, perennially popular, are seen to great advantage in another tuck-in blouse. It's accented by a big bow tied at the neck, and has short cuffed sleeves.

A HUGE PUSSY CAT BOW adds front interest at the neck of an attractive polka dot blouse. Bows, so feminine and extremely flattering, are very much in the spotlight this season.

OF HOPE AND GLADNESS

How eagerly voices proclaim the glad truth—voices young and old; all join the wonderful refrain. Even nature swells the chorus. Flowers burst into bloom, everything speaks of new life and hope.

Practically everyone goes to church Easter Sunday. Almost everyone joins in the singing. Even the hardest heart feels a thrill of hope and gladness. The spirit of joy is contagious. If it could only last!

It can last if you make the Church a part of your life, and yourself a part of the Church. Prayer and Bible study will help you realize that the joy of the resurrection can be yours, not only at Easter, but through every day of every year. The Church needs you, and you need the Church. Accept the Easter message. Make it a vital part of your life. Prove to yourself and others that Jesus Christ has truly risen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"You don't match wits with Sir Luke," I said.

"Any notion why he sent for us?"

"I can guess. So can you, Tom."

"Our orders from London were to the point. We were to sail from this port on the Plym Venture an armed merchantman outfitting in a Jersey ship."

"The Venture was booked to call at the Cape, at Fort Dauphin on Madagascar—and, finally, at both Goa and Madras. There had been no hint of the part we would play in that voyage. Sir Luke would give us the details in New York."

"Why are you raking your neck?" asked Tom.

"Why are you?"

"It's a security trick, answering a question with another," said my doctor friend. "A Scot has no right to use it. However, I'll try answering for us both. I'm here because London is too hot to hold me. I'd prefer sudden death off Africa to a slow extinction in jail. You're here to make yourself a man of property—assuming, of course, that fortune heads over prayers and sends you home alive. What fee did they promise you if our mission's a success?"

"A thousand pounds. Tom, I've told you often enough."

"I'm worth about five hundred," said Hoyt. "But then I can't nurse a ship through a typhoon, or talk back to a French corsair in his own tongue. He lifted the jug and toasted me gravely. 'To you, Dick Douglas—and you, Aberdeen lady. Let's pray you return to Scotland with enough hard cash to prove you're a laird for all your salty ways.' He put down the demijohn; we had both heard the screech of captain bars. Captain Greene, who could smell a breeze in the making, was about to end his voyage."

"On deck, lad," said my cabin mate. "And the devil take the future. A first view of Front Street is worth waiting for."

AF Sergeant Is Modelling New Uniform For NCOs

By POLLY WITTE

United Press International
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U)—Master Sgt. Tom Rhone has been conducting a one-man fashion show at the North American Air Defense Command here, but it ends in early April.

Rhone, whose regular duties make sure the uniform is shown in the NORAD Office of Information Services, donned an unfamiliar black and silver uniform in early January and has been wearing it since.

The senior master sergeant is one of 15 officers from 14 different Air Force commands who have been working for months on the design of a new optional off-duty dress uniform for non-commissioned Air Force officers.

The uniform board held numerous conferences and finally came up with the all-black uniform with silver trimmings that Rhone is now wearing at NORAD headquarters. Rhone's job: to make sure the uniform is shown to as many NCOs as possible.

The uniform, a radical departure from the regulation Air Force "blue," came about as a result of a Pentagon decision that Air Force "non-coms" need a dress uniform adaptable to formal wear.

Besides the extreme change of the black-and-silver color combination, the insignia of rank has been moved to the forearm of the blouse. The usual Air Force patch has been replaced at the shoulder with the words "United States Air Force" in silver, and a silver strip has been added down the outside of each trouser leg. Buttons are the present official silver Air Force buttons.

The cap, also black, features the present insignia embroidered in silver. But the insignia is contained in the outline of a shield instead of the usual circle.

The 15 sergeants on the uniform board met again in April for a final decision on the uniform. If adopted, it will be "optional," meaning the NCO will have to buy one out of his own funds if he wants one.

Rhone says he has attracted a lot of attention during his stint as a fashion model, most of it favorable. But there's one exception: air and military policemen are continually stopping him for "being out of uniform."

GANDY BARR HOPES

AUSTIN Tex. (UPI)—Stripper Gandy Barr can now look to only the U. S. Supreme Court to save her from a 15-year prison sentence for hiding marijuana in her brassiere. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday turned down her request for a new trial.
